BIG IMPROVEMENTS

Made on the Second Floor of M. O'Neil & Co.'s Store.

The large cloak, fur, skirt and manufacturing departments on the second floor of the M. O'Neil & Company's store, are undergoing marked improvements at present. In the salesrooms the floors are being carpeted, and here and there touches added that not only provide convenience, but also give an air of beauty and style to the entire room.

Under the efficient management of W. T. Tobin, who has the oversight of the entire second floor, the business has increased within the past few years and so rapidly that it has been found necessary to add to this department a genuine and modernly equipped manufacturing department from which anything from the most stylish and costly garments for women and girls down to the plainest costume may be turned out at the lowest popular prices.

This fall Mr. Tobin expects to have 50 persons more and working in the manufacturing department. Work in this department will be under the supervision of a thoroughly competent tailor and tailoress, who are originators and designers, having had many years experience in New York, Chicago and Cleveland.

The machines in use in manufacturing departments are all of the most improved Singer pattern. All are run by an electric motor, the electricity being produced by M. O'Neil & Company's own dynamo located in the basement of the building. Machines with single needles make 2,800 stitches a minute. There is a double stitching machine in the department which makes 5,000 stitches per minute and shortly a machine will be put in that will have five needles and make 14,000 stitches every minute.

Visitors to the second floor should not forget to notice particularly the skirt department. Here skirts are made from the latest French models direct from Paris, showing the very latest creations in tailored suits, evening costumes and street dresses. Customers buying dress goods at the M. O'Neil & Company store may have the material made into skirts, or other articles of apparel, in the manufacturing department, where the work will be done at the very lowest rates. The style of workmanship on women's suits or skirts will be equal to that of skirts formerly made at this store at $17.

Visitors are always welcome in any of the departments of the big store, but the design of this article is to impress upon the readers the radical changes and improvements being made on the second floor. Mr. Tobin is a man of much experience in the mercantile business. He has been with the M. O'Neil & Company's store for 21 years, starting in as cash boy June 23, 1878. For 15 years he was in the office department, but since the death of Mr. I. J. Dyas, a former partner in the store, January, 1892, has had charge of the position made vacant by Mr. Dyas' death.

MURDEROUS

Assault Made on An Unknown Man.

Found In an Empty Box Car—Head Badly Cut.

About 2 o'clock Friday at Sterling, O., Conductor Brumbaugh on Erie train No. 85, found in a N.Y. & W. box car No. 23283, an unknown man in an unconscious condition.

The car was standing on the tracks at Sterling. Every indication points towards an attempt having been made to murder the man, as his head was badly bruised and his face was cut in places. By his side lay a coupling pin which was covered with blood.

The man was reasonably well dressed. He was turned over to the township authorities at Sterling. When last heard from the man had not yet recovered consciousness, and it is thought that death will soon follow.

As yet nothing has been discovered by which the man may be identified.
